4-Mountain Ski Area Schladming

The heart of the ski region connects the four biggest ski mountains in Styria: the Hauser Kaibling, Planai, Hochwurzen, and Reiteralm. Making for a unique skiing experience with 123 kilometers of uninterrupted pistes literally right there at your feet. Add top-notch infrastructure and convivial après-ski “watering holes” - what more could any skier possible wish for?

4 in a row!

Each ski area is unique in its own right, and when they join forces, they're simply unbeatable. On the Planai World Cup Hill, world champions battle it out for hundredths of a second. At Hauser Kaibling you can enjoy the distant view from the highest point of the ski area, the Hochwurzen transforms day into evening, and the Reiteralm's downhill run known as the „Finale Grande“ definitely lives up to its billing.

At a Glance:

- Highest snow reliability from early winter until after Easter
- 123 kilometers of nonstop slopes
- 50 state-of-the-art lifts
- 16 mountain highlights
- 3 children's areas
- 7 ski schools

Ski shuttles run here too!

Convenient and eco-friendly! Inside the Schladming 4 Mountain Ski Area, a ski bus operates regularly. This allows you to return to your starting point in total comfort after a full day of skiing. Simply board with your valid ski pass and ride for free.

Cross-Country Skiing in Ramsau am Dachstein

Sunniest cross-country region in Austria

The mighty Dachstein enthroned above you, the sun smiling on your face and the winter air clearer than clear. High time for you to unpack your cross country skis. After all, here on this sunny plateau, up to 220 km of beautifully maintained trails are just waiting for you to conquer!

Overview

- Up to 125 km of trails for classic technique
- Up to 95 km for “skating” technique
- 20 cross-country loops
- Cross-country ski trails for all skill levels, up to 30 km
- For all abilities
- Snowmaking & snow depot

7 AM – 5 PM

10 hours of wonderful cross-country skiing experiences, after which the trails are maintained and groomed until late into the night. The fresh tracks are still soft and need a little time to harden. That said, please always comply with the trail hours as posted.

For the very latest online trail reports, please visit schladming-dachstein.at/open-trails

Excellent training

Thanks to our professional trainers, you will learn the basics of cross-country skiing. So that you are always on the right track!

For night owls

If your day is filled with hundreds of other holiday experiences, simply catch up with your cross-country skiing in the evening, thanks to a 4 km-long night trail.

“Ramsau by Moonlight” – On the four nights of the full moon in winter, the moon itself will illuminate your evening cross-country skiing enjoyment.

Outstanding!

Not everybody receives the “Styrian Cross-Country Seal of Quality”. To earn it, you have to meet the highest quality criteria. The cross-country trails of Ramsau have more than earned this distinction.

Above the clouds

High up on Dachstein Glacier at 2700 meters above sea level is one of the world’s longest glacier ski trails: the Dachstein Panoramaloipe.

Due to renovations of the Dachstein cableway, this glacier experience will only be possible again in winter 2024/25.

Photo points

Say “Cheese”! A photo point is located right inside the cross-country ski stadium, and another is installed along the over 200 km network of trails. Can you spot it?

Convenience of renting

Welcome to Winter Wonderland!

Schladming-Dachstein

A winter landscape plucked from the pages of a picture book. The sun glistening as brightly as the snow crystals. Narrow winter pathways, pristine expanses of forests and meadows, all waiting to be explored by you.

Winter hiking and snowshoeing are perhaps the gentlest way to experience winter and keep physically active. The Schladming-Dachstein Region offers some 100 winter tours, in the valley and up in the mountains. Whether just you and Mother Nature, with family and friends, or in a guided group tour. You will love leaving your own footprints in the snow.

Winter Hiking Tips

Your most important tool

... your shoes. They need to be stable, water- and cold-resistant, and have a stiff rubber sole providing plenty of traction. A high ankle and gaiters will avoid snow getting inside your boots and giving you wet feet.

The Onion Principle

Several layers of clothing will help you avoid freezing or sweating. Undergarments made from functional textiles are followed by a second layer consisting of a pullover or warm fleece jacket. The outermost layer must be a functional, waterproof jacket. And don't forget your hat, gloves and scarf!

Backpack

Pack a warm drink, snacks, cushion to sit on, head lamp, mobile phone, spikes, hiking map, sunblock and sunglasses.

Plan well

Hiking in winter takes more time and effort, also because it gets dark early – bear that in mind as you choose your tour.

It's not about speed

You should walk slowly and rhythmically since the combination of snow and walking too quickly will tire you out quickly. You should still be able to chat without getting out of breath.

Extra support

... and traction is provided by poles with snow baskets. Make sure that the snow baskets are big enough.

Upgrade

With snowshoes, you are able to walk comfortable across deep snow and away from the maintained winter hiking paths.

And afterwards?

After your hike, it's time to unwind. However, before you do that, be sure to stuff your boots with paper and allow them to dry. In that way, nothing will stand in the way of your next winter adventure the following day.

Ski Touring Paradise

Schladming-Dachstein

Winter sports fans don't only find happiness on the magnificent pistes. Away from the groomed hills, ski-touring fans discover more than 50 perfect opportunities to climb to new heights, then slice back down the mountainside. From easy routes for beginners to challenging ones for experienced alpinists.

Especially noteworthy: Sölktäler Nature Park, Ramsau am Dachstein and Donnersbachtal including the Planneralm and Donnersbachwald. Here you will discover most of the region's ski tours.

Dachstein Überquerung Österreichs National Skitour

"The rooftop of Styria" is calling you! Austria's National Ski Tour is the most spectacular way to experience UNESCO World Natural & Cultural Heritage Dachstein. Depending on the snow conditions, you can enjoy this classic Alpine traverse between February and April. Organized tours with mountain & ski guides are offered several times a week, return transfer included.

Please note! Due to renovations at the mountain station, the operating hours of the Dachstein Glacier cable car will be significantly restricted. Please check in advance at www.derdachstein.at

Climb the pistes

Our ski mountains are open to everything. As a ski tourer, designated pistes and routes are available at specific times (also in the evening occasionally) for you to ascend the mountain under your own steam. In the following ski areas, a fee is charged for climbing the piste and use of infrastructure, including pistes, parking and guidance system: Hochwurzen, Planai, Galsterberg, Fageralm and Rittisberg.

I'm staying on track!

Let's take collective responsibility for protecting nature. For our own benefit, and the enjoyment of generations yet to come.

Respect

wildlife protection areas and sensitive winter habitats.

Only choose marked routes and common thoroughfares for your tours. Avoid wildlife feeding stations.

Maintain your distance from clumps of trees and individual trees at and above the timberline —this is where the black grouse resides.

Avoid

ridgelines and exposed summits during early morning and late afternoon. Above the tree line, you'll find chamois, ibex, and ptarmigan, especially in the depths of winter.

Avoid

tours at twilight and at night. Wild animals also need to get their rest.

Keep

your dog on a leash. Dogs running loose are a major stress for wildlife.

Avoid

new-growth forest and do not ascend through areas of reforestation or new growth.

Use

designated parking. Make sure not to block access roads or forestry lanes.
